

2 February 1971

MEMORANDUM FOR: General Cushman

SUBJECT: Invitation to Meet with Members of the Agency's Management Advisory Group

1. The members of the Agency's Management Advisory Group (MAG) would like to invite you to be their dinner guest some time this month and report to you on their work. The timing would be at your convenience.

2. In the past the MAG has had dinner discussions with Colonel White, the Deputies and other senior Agency officers. On this occasion the MAG members would like to brief you on what they have done and are doing, after which there would be a brief discussion and question period. During the latter phase the members would welcome your views on Community matters such as the work of the NIRB and USIB.

3. Such an evening might start with cocktails and dinner in the Executive Dining Room at 1745 hours followed by a discussion period in the Director's Conference Room. The length of the session would be at your convenience. These usually run about an hour or an hour and a half, so the event would be over by about 2030 hours.

4. The MAG was established in 1969 as an experiment in providing new opportunities for communication between top management and promising and responsible CIA officers. There are 14 members (3 from each Directorate and 2 from the O/DCI area) who serve terms of one year. More information on the MAG is contained in the attached two memoranda. Colonel White can give you additional background.

5. If you are interested, your calendar is free on the nights of Tuesday, 16 February, or Thursday, 18 February.
